An image showing oil spill cleanup equipment: an orange oil filter, a clear measuring jug with markings for 100, 200, 300, 400, and 500 ml, and a red funnel. The word "oil" is partially visible on a container in the background.

Changes to Initial Proposed Regulations

- ❖ Clarified that “shipment size” refers to used oil volume and not the volume of clean up materials
- ❖ Revised language to acknowledge that “storage capacity” is not exclusive to tank size
- ❖ Clarified reimbursable costs under contaminated oil claims
